

Arizona Association for Environmental Education

Fall Event

Connections: People and Environment: Discovering Arizona's Transition Zone

Calling all Presenters!

September 20, 2008

Montezuma Castle National Monument at Montezuma Well
Camp Verde, Arizona

The Arizona Association for Environmental Education has planned a fall event that will reconnect all participants with the wonder and joy of working in and for the natural world while creating networking opportunities. Your expertise is needed to provide environmental educators, interpreters, formal and informal educators with an opportunity to renew their passion for education in the environment.

Enhance your professional development while providing your colleagues with experiences involving hands-on successful techniques and practices in a beautiful setting. The concurrent sessions will run from 10 am – 5 pm on Saturday, September 20. Sessions will be 90 minutes and given outdoors at the Montezuma Well picnic area. (Three workshops and one field trip will be offered concurrently, four rotations throughout the day.) Presentations with hands-on elements, audience participation, and take-home materials and lessons will be given preference. We may request that some popular sessions be repeated.

Opportunity to camp, enjoy campfire and network with others will be available on both Friday and Saturday night. Discounted hotels will also be available. Saturday lunch is included.

Please fit your proposal with the title theme, "Connections: People and Environment: Discovering Arizona's Transition Zone".

Please understand session presenters will pay their own travel cost, and their registration if attending other sessions.
